

Sexting & Cyberbullying: Can't Take it Back

Script Preview

Is there anything wrong with wanting to be noticed or wanting to be in a relationship with someone? No, absolutely not. However, when you have to put yourself in a vulnerable position to have that, you need to ask yourself if the attention or relationship is really worth it. If someone does ask for a picture, you have the right to say no. You are so much more than just a picture.

The truth is, you may or may not get that person to notice you or be with you, but the one thing that is for sure, is that once you hit the send button on a cell phone or computer, you no longer have any control of getting that picture or text back, or control of where it is going to end up.
